ASIA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM
ON ELECTROMAGNETIC COMPATIBILITY

The Asia-Pacific International Symposium on Electromagnetic Compatibility (APEMC) is the largest EMC events in Asia/Pacific. The first APEMC took place in Singapore from May 19-22, 2008. This is a major step towards a high-quality, international Asia-Pacific EMC symposium addressing the needs of a rising EMC community in the region, fostering its link to the world and promoting excellence among its members. APEMC has demonstrated scientific excellence, openness and outreach to the industry.

The next APEMC will be held from May 25 to May 28 2021 in Bali, Indonesia. Bali is a land of paradise in Indonesia with a special culture and many tourist attractions. In the last five years Indonesia survived the economic crisis and has seen rapid development in preparation for the new industrial era. This Symposium to be held in Bali will offer a special atmosphere- a blend between advanced technological developments, local culture and a romantic setting.
